Business + Beer + Teamwork² = The Perfect Formula

Brewing beer requires skill, patience, timing, teamwork, and most important of all, a beer in your left hand.

UBrew brings teams together with our hands-on brewing workshops. We place everyone in small groups and take teams through the brewing process from start to finish. Everyone plays their part from steeping grains to measuring the alcohol content. Kick off the class with a presentation, sprinkle in some business chat during boil periods, and snack on braised short rib small plates. Don't like beer? The science behind making it is half the excitement.

UBrew is changing the face of team outings in Milwaukee. A little bit serious, a lot of bit fun.

Let's have some fun:

- Groups of up to sixteen people
- Brew in small teams of 2-4
- Expert homebrewer leading class
- Choice of beer styles to brew
- Sampling of beer throughout the session
- Small plate food catering by the famous Braise restaurant kitchen

Time to get (a little) serious:

- Presentation equipment available
- Custom bottle labels designed for your company event

Brewing some business with Logicalis

Logicalis is an IT consulting company that joined us for a business event. After a short presentation, sales people partnered with clients to form the ultimate relationship: those who brew beer together, stick together. After the workshop, Logicalis used the homebrewed beer as a follow-up thank you and another chance to connect.

Let's chat about about your next team or business event!
